Do you love the lessons where we go on an adventure (e.g. through the Amazon Rainforest, into Fu Hao's tomb, through the haunted house or onboard Shackleton's ship)? Well, you might remember Tim (the pretend 'palm oil farmer'), who has put together an adventure called 'Troll Hunter' through a sequence of dilemmas, pictures, videos and stories. If you want to go on this adventure, then click on this link. It involves lots of different curriculum links, so feel free to let this take over your afternoon activities or your weekends if you're looking for something to do.
