

Creativity , courage and friendship

MFL

Modern Foreign Languages (MFL) is intended to be a subject in which all children are given the chance to flourish and are given opportunities to be the very best they can be. Our school values are fostered through the way we encourage the children to develop their understanding and knowledge of other languages. Creativity is central to the teaching using a variety of techniques to engage and help the children learn. The children develop courage as they practice speaking to each other, often from a complete starting point with a new language. Friendship is also important as the children support each other and work together to learn and gain confidence with their speaking and reading.
