This last week is traditionally the week Year 6 children fear, the dreaded SATS week... Some schools completely change their normal routine, for instance not allowing the children outside before school and staff not being available to have a chat to if necessary. Personally, I feel this can actually cause more pressure and stress on the children. Hopefully, you have not noticed too much difference. We have tried to balance the needs of year 6 with also allowing the learning of the rest of the school to continue with minimal disruption. With the tests now over, we are all incredibly proud of them all. They approached them with an amazing amount of maturity. They stayed calm and took them in their stride without any fuss whatsoever. I am confident they will also be proud of their achievements when they get their results in July.

Next week is the turn of Year 2 as they complete their Key stage 1 Assessments in Reading and Mathematics. We wish them all the best and again am sure they will do the very best they can.
